In the town of Acciaroli, Italy, one in ten people live to over 100 years old, and without many of the problems that plague aging populations elsewhere around the globe. When scientists visited Acciaroli, they identified that the villagers ate rosemary, and a lot of it. Rosemary's benefits are well-documented: it has anti-oxidant, anti-inflammatory, and anti-carcinogenic properties. It can reportedly ward off dementia and Alzheimer's disease.

Founder David Spencer-Percival was intrigued by this story. He designed No.1 Rosemary Water as a drink to remember; something that would provide a convenient means of incorporating this super herb into the Western diet.

Wood Bros Distilling Co.

Wood Bro's Single Estate Vodka is made from grain to glass in Oxfordshire. As a primarily vodka distillery, the base spirit is vital, and that is why they do it all themselves. The grain comes from local wheat fields, and it is milled on the brothers' farm into a flour before being distilled. This allows a subtlety, depth and smoothness in flavour that is unparalleled, and allows a great emphasis to be placed on locality.

This vodka is creamy and sweet on the nose, with hints of warm vanilla and toffee, cut through with notes of soft piney wood. The palate is remarkably smooth; its subtle peppery notes contrast a soft mouthfeel with wafts of creamy, almost custardy butterscotch developing on the long finish. To be sipped over ice, or mixed into a delicious and sophisticated martini.

Burning Barn Rum

Burning Barn Rum is a small family-run craft producer with a history in fruit growing. They handcraft bold, irreverent rum with real spice and a touch of fire.

In September 2015 their family barn burnt down. Forged from the fire and smoke of that day comes Burning Barn Rum. Their flavours are inspired by this fiery origin - spiced rum with real heat in it and a smoked rum redolent of smoldering embers and burnt caramel.

Aiming to bring new and exciting rum flavours to the spirits market, Burning Barn offers consumers the same craft credentials they can find in the gin category.

Gundog Ales

Gundog Ales is a brewery dedicated to man's best friend. Beer. No wait, canines. No wait. Both!

Based in the Northamptonshire village of Woodford Halse, what started as a hobby for founders James and Sarah Pickering has turned into an excellent independent brewery that produces fantastic, characterful beers. Together with a hands-on team, they produce a range of moreish ales for cask and bottle using traditional and modern brewing methods and their own tried and tested recipes.
